Let us descend Slowly. At every step much may be lost. The very dust we tread stirs as with life, And not the slightest breath that sends not up Something of human grandeur. We are come, Are now, where once the mightiest spirits met In terrible conflict; this, while Rome was free, The noblest theatre on this side Heaven. --Rogers. In visiting-the Eternal City, its magnificent ruins, noble monuments of art and incomparable temples of religion, there is yet another sight which moves our feelings more, and causes an ecstasy of delight in the heart of the happy beholder. That is the sight of the great and saintly Pope Pius IX, the Vicar of Jesus Christ, and supreme head of the Catholic Church on earth. One look at that noble, grand and venerable pontiff would repay a journey...
