In response to a congressional request, GAO reviewed the Air Forces Tactical Air Command (TAC) and Strategic Air Command (SAC) flying hour programs, which establish training requirements to bring pilots and crews to a fully combat-ready status. GAO found that: (1) experienced Air Force pilots establish TAC and SAC criteria for determining when a pilot or crew is fully combat ready and how many added flying hours they need to further enhance their proficiency; (2) the Air Force does not have a system for analyzing the data pilots use for their determinations; (3) pilots flew more than the required number of hours to be fully combat-ready but below the required number of hours to achieve full combat capability; (4) the Department of Defense believes that additional training is required to achieve full combat capability for all assigned missions to ensure enhanced performance and proficiency in specialized tasks and secondary missions; (5) TAC bases its annual flying hour program budget requests on aircraft utilization rates rather than on a compilation of flying hours needed to meet training requirements; and (6) SAC bases...
