They, who I asked, affecting to smile. Why, they who haunt the house, whoever they are. I don't mind them. I remember them many years ago, when I lived in this house, not as a servant; but I know they will be the death of me some day. I don't care, I'm old, and must die soon anyhow; and then I shall be with them, and in this house still. The woman spoke with so dreary a calmness that really it was a sort of awe that prevented my conversing with her further. I paid for my week, and too happy were my wife and I to get off so cheaply. You excite my curiosity, said I; nothing I should like better than to sleep in a haunted house. Pray give me the address of the one which you left so ignominiously. My friend gave me the address; and when we parted, I walked straight towards the house thus indicated. It is situated on the north side of Oxford Street, in a dull but respectable thoroughfare. I found the house shut up, no bill at the window, and no response to my knock. As I was turning away, a beer-boy, collecting pewter pots at the neighboring areas, said to me, Do you want any one at that house, sir? Yes, I heard it was to be let. Let! why, the woman who kept it is dead, has been dead these three weeks, and no one can be found to stay there, though Mr. J offered ever so much. He offered mother, who chafers for him, 1 a week just to open and shut the windows, and she would not....
